More information

Data, resources and tools, to help your business thrive. GSMA Services are here to enable companies and organisations within the telecoms ecosystem, do business together more effectively. As well as to maintain the standards and reputation of the industry.

Our services are underpinned by unique, accurate and comprehensive data. Information, only a trade organisation like the GSMA can collate. Especially, when it comes to device intelligence, since we manage the Type Allocation Code (TAC) system on behalf of the industry. The 8-digit TAC forms the first part of the International Mobile Equipment Identity (IMEI), which identifies each individual mobile device and its model specification.

Choose between the single or subscription-based pricing plan

Standard Fee Plan

The standard fee is US$450 per TAC.

There is an annual cap of US$85,000, so if your company reaches this level within a 12-month period, TAC allocated for the remainder of the year is free of charge.

Subscription Plan

This enables unmetered TAC consumption for a fixed annual fee US$65,000. It eliminates repetitive ordering and payment administration and makes TAC immediately available.

GSMA members get a 10% discount
